

PLANNING FOR GOOD TIMES WITH NHPBS

Amy Greenlaw
NHPBS On-Air
Fundraising Producer

Do you have a friend with an uncanny knack for planning a good time? Maybe they always know when your favorite band is coming to town, which restaurant is a hidden gem or which TV shows live up to the hype. At NHPBS, Amy Greenlaw, the station's on-air fundraising producer, is one of those friends—and during the March fundraising drive, she's sharing her knack for fun with our members.

One of the upcoming events Greenlaw is most excited about is Seniority Authority: Planning Your Next Chapter, a live event dedicated to answering your questions about estate planning. Greenlaw knows this isn't a topic most people associate with a pleasant afternoon, but she shares the ethos of SENIORITY AUTHORITY host Cathleen Toomey that planning for the future doesn't need to be dreadful, especially with the help of the event's featured guest, Attorney Ben Siracusa Hillman, a partner at Shaheen & Gordon Attorneys at Law.

Cathleen Toomey
Host of SENIORITY AUTHORITY

enthusied Greenlaw, noting that their aim is to create a relaxed atmosphere, complete with snacks to nosh on and time for mingling with Toomey and Siracusa Hillman. It's all part of SENIORITY AUTHORITY's goal to help people get smarter about getting older, so they can embrace the future with open arms.

"I'm in this generation of 50-somethings that need to have things in order for their families and next of kin," Greenlaw said. "It will give you peace of mind to know you can check that off your list." Those interested in attending should buy their tickets quickly, though. The event is March 26 at NHPBS studios, and space is limited.

Greenlaw is also quick to add that, as with many NHPBS events, you get access to NHPBS Passport included in the price of your ticket.

The streaming service, which features access to a huge library of PBS shows, including programs that can't be found anywhere else and early access to popular dramas, is a membership benefit that Greenlaw loves and uses regularly. On March 1, all six seasons of the modern PBS classic DOWNTON ABBEY will be returning to Passport for the first time in years.

"I've never watched it," Greenlaw admitted, but she's looking forward to catching up with the Granthams and their staff now. She noted it's a great choice for fans of the hit Netflix series Bridgerton. "I think there's a whole audience out there that's never watched DOWNTON ABBEY—it could be big!" To welcome the series back home to PBS, NHPBS will be airing a marathon of the first season as well as two popular specials about the etiquette of DOWNTON ABBEY.

While she loves curling up with a great binge-watch, one of Greenlaw's favorite past times is actually going to concerts, and she takes the task of finding great concert offers for NHPBS viewers very seriously. This month, a brand new concert special from the much-loved musician Joe Bonamassa also means a new ticket offer for his August show at the BankNH Pavilion in Gilford.

Even for someone who makes it a point to seek out iconic acts, Greenlaw, who's had the chance to see Bonamassa live, was impressed by the show the guitarist puts on. "His concert is just so energetic," she said. "He's an amazing musician." Ticket options from NHPBS include a VIP package with a soundcheck performance and Q&A with Bonamassa.

Tickets for concerts like this tend to go quickly, so Greenlaw recommends getting yours early. "When we have tickets, they're very good seats," she pointed out proudly. "You're not paying a lot more for the seat to get it from us, but you're also getting a membership and you're supporting NHPBS."

Now that NHPBS is 100% community-funded, every donation matters. Why not have a great time while doing some good? Find out more about upcoming NHPBS events and concerts at nhpbs.org/events.
